

REALISING YOUR SUCCESS

PROFESSIONAL PARTNERS

REALISING YOUR SUCCESS

It takes considerable time, study and effort to create the opportunity to be a Partner in a professional firm.

In competitive professional environments, time is a very scarce resource. That's where we come in. Essentially our role is to help realise your success financially and empower your future.

So how do you empower your future?

- Get excellent financial advice from experts
- Understand what you need to structure, protect and manage your growing financial resources
- Implement a plan that enables you to build your professional skills, network, business while we take care of the finances and time consuming detail

We specialise in providing guidance advice to Australian-based Partners in professional firms.

We help successful professionals through a range of skills and services, including:

- Strategic thinking and financial advice for the best results overtime
 - Dedicated financial resources to manage your affairs and realise your financial success, while you successfully manage your career
 - Long and short term goal setting, mentoring and the pursuit of financial stability and growth through the various stages of life
 - Tax planning with accounting and compliance to finish it off
 - Estate and succession advice, where applicable
-

WE REALISE SUCCESS

When it comes to your financial affairs, we'll provide imaginative solutions. Imagination leads to creativity; creativity leads to learning.

If you're looking for a slow moving, staid international practice with marble halls and marbled thoughts, you've come to the wrong place.

Gunderson Briggs provides results and continuity. We think first, and worry about the box later. The important thing is to measure the right things right, be it tax payable, cash flow, return on investments, economic value add, capital required or just love and understanding.

THE WAY IT WORKS

We spend time understanding your professional partnership aspirations, goals and opportunities.

We think creatively about your short and longer term needs to develop and finance your opportunities.

That leads to a plan which we then implement, and we keep building that plan and achieve results to realise your success.

A KEY ISSUE

“Professionals often work 70 hours a week to provide leading advice, results and collaborate with their colleagues. It is very common that sufficient time is not devoted to securing future wealth that rewards all that time, discipline and devotion.”

- Ken Gunderson-Briggs

Level 2, 117 Clarence Street
Sydney NSW 2000

Call on us anytime

T 02 9262 2409
E talk@gbbos.com.au

